Summary of Legislation

Under current law, members of the Colorado Wine Industry Development Board are not permitted to serve more than one four-year term. This bill allows board members to serve up to two consecutive terms and after the expiration of their terms until the appointment of a successor.

Background

The Colorado Wine Industry Development Board is a nine member board appointed by the Governor according to statutory requirements. Board members serve without compensation, but are entitled to reimbursement for travel and actual expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. The board controls the Colorado Wine Industry Development Fund, which pays for wine research and development, and promotion and marketing of the Colorado wine industry. The board expended approximately $870,000 in FY 2016-17.

State Expenditures

This bill will reduce the workload of the Department of Agriculture and the Governor's Office to recruit board appointees. It will also reduce the workload of the Department of Agriculture to train new board members. The workload reduction will not require a reduction in appropriations.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor and took effect April 28, 2017.
